Our star ratings

Our printed star ratings may not be the official star ratings of the properties featured. We base our ratings on the experience of our Purchasing Managers who select from the following categories: Palace, 5 star superior; 5 star; 4 star superior; 4 star; 3 star superior and 3 star. Some hotels will receive a 5 star superior rating and be categorised as a Luxury hotel. These properties, along with those rated Palace, are widely recognised as some of the world's finest hotels. Properties labelled boutique are small and intimate with the ambiance of a private home. They are characterful, with an individual approach to design and décor, and offer a high degree of personal service. Properties denoted Classic acclaimed are those which have proved to be consistently popular with, and are held in high regard by, Classic Collection Holidays' guests.

Our commitment to sustainability

We are keen to mitigate our environmental impact wherever possible. In our offices we reduce, re-use, re-cycle. The paper used in our brochures is from sustainably managed forests and controlled sources. We're also reducing the number of brochures that we produce by extending each brochure's life cycle from 12 to up to 24 months. We are introducing polybag envelopes made from 100% recycled polythene and which are 100% recyclable. To offset the carbon emissions from staff flights, we contribute annually to The Travel Foundation who lead sustainability studies to ensure natural resources are better protected through improved tourism practices.

Travelife is an international certification system which promotes sustainability within the tourism industry. Travelife criteria cover key sustainability areas including water and energy use, recycling, supporting local culture, and the protection of human rights. Working in partnership with tour operators the aim is to increase awareness of sustainability within hotels and amongst hotels' guests and visitors.

Eco-luxury hotels

With the aim of preserving the quality and beauty of holiday destinations for future generations, many hotels have developed sustainability initiatives to improve their ecological footprint. A number of our hotels have received awards from organisations such as Travelife, Green Key and Blue Flag.

Sani hotels' Sani Green Initiative highlights renewable energy sources, water and energy conservation, and the removal of single use plastics. Ikos hotels' Green Programme focuses on water, energy, waste and supply sustainability targets, and educates guests with eco-learning programmes. Constantinou Bros Hotels is a member of the Cyprus Breakfast programme, a Cyprus Sustainable Tourism Initiative in order to promote traditional local gastronomy naturally produced from local communities. Costa Navarino has a strong commitment to economic, environmental and social responsibility. Sustainability was embedded in the development of the resort and a guiding principle from planning through to construction and operation. More than €55 million has been spent in creating the necessary infrastructure for a wholly sustainable operation.

A number of our hotels are reducing carbon emissions by exploring alternative sources of energy, sourcing food as locally as possible to reduce food miles and encouraging guests to conserve energy and cut down on litter. Should you have any questions about the sustainability credentials of any of our featured properties please speak to our travel consultants.

A perfect family holiday

There's nothing quite like a family holiday to create the fondest of life-long memories. We know how important it is to get everything right, especially when travelling with young children. You can rest assured that we've got the knowledge, experience, and the support in resort, to make sure that the whole family has the best possible holiday.

For children

Facilities for younger guests are highlighted on the hotel pages and may include separate pools, paddling pools or sections of the main pool specifically for children, mini clubs for youngsters of varying ages, dedicated play areas, babysitting services, early mealtimes and special child-friendly menus. Our featured hotels normally provide high-chairs, and cots, payable locally, and many feature sports facilities designed to suit the whole family. Some hotels provide kettles, fridges and sometimes even microwaves, and if any of these additional facilities are important to you, simply ask our travel consultants for details.

Child prices

Many hotels offer substantial reductions and sometimes free stays to the first child when they share with two adults and there is sufficient space. For this reason, child prices may sometimes only be given in upgraded, larger room types. In a room for four occupants a reduction may be available to a second child. Some hotels offer reductions to older children and children staying in rooms where they do not share with an adult.

Children's clubs

Some hotels run supervised children's clubs ranging from crèches, mini and maxi clubs to activities for teenagers. Crèches and clubs are payable locally although some hotels offer them on a complimentary basis. The dates of operation of clubs vary from year round to high season only: Easter, summer, Christmas. We can advise regarding prices, dates of operation and whether pre-booking is necessary.

Babysitting

Some hotels have a babysitting service which is bookable and payable locally. Babysitting services do vary and sitters may be a member of hotel staff not specifically qualified in child care. It is advisable to check locally about the services offered including whether the sitter remains in the room, or makes use of a monitoring device.

Interconnecting rooms

A number of our featured hotels are able to offer interconnecting rooms and suites. These may be requested on arrival at the hotel, although wherever possible, we will do our best to guarantee these at the time of booking.

Amathus Beach Hotel Limassol, Cyprus

Marbella Corfu

Single occupancy

When travelling on a family or multigenerational holiday, some of our guests prefer not to share a bedroom or suite. Should you wish to book a single room or a twin room or suite for sole occupancy please speak to one of our travel consultants.

Self catering freedom

We feature a handful of villas and apartments, and even when booking on a bed and breakfast, half board or all inclusive basis, families with young children often like to have use of a kitchen or kitchenette facility within their room, suite, villa or apartment. Please call for details of our featured villas and apartments.

Visit Kos and Rhodes before travelling over to Turkey. Enjoy the beaches of the Ionian Coast before moving on to Corfu.

You can pick any of our luxury properties and, as long as there's a flight or a ferry available between your chosen resorts, we can arrange everything for you. Our destinations

Classic Collection Holidays' expertise is defined by more than thirty years' experience of organising personalised holidays for those who love luxury and expect exceptional personal service. We feature a wonderful variety of hand-picked, well-loved and much sought-after holiday destinations, and have loyal customers who choose to travel with us time after time.

Whether you're returning to Greece or Cyprus, or it's your first time, thank you for entrusting us with your holiday arrangements.

Athens

For all its well-documented mythical and cultural history, Athens is surprisingly modern. Life here is lived outdoors; in squares and bars, in parks and tavernas, and on balconies. It's animated and there's an irrepressible energy which makes this city southern Europe's most vibrant capital.

Peloponnese

The Peloponnese has been at the heart of Greek sport, theatre, literature and history for centuries. It's a legendary area of soaring mountains, deep gorges, green valleys, wildflower meadows and charming coastline. Messinia's Costa Navarino is an eco-friendly, sophisticated, luxury holiday destination.

Thessaloniki

Thessaloniki, perfectly positioned at the water's edge, is cultured, fashionable and underappreciated. Long boulevards, tidy walkways, wide squares and plentiful trees meet with great shopping, fine dining and glorious history. This sunny gateway to Halkidiki's beaches offers flair and fun in equal measure.

Halkidiki

Halkidiki is different. It's an intriguing travel destination. This delightful trio of green peninsulas - Kassandra, Sithonia and the monastic refuge of Mount Athos - shares five hundred kilometres of scenic coastline, more than forty sweeping and sandy blue flag beaches, and many historic sites.

Sporades Islands

From sunsets to shipwrecks this scattered, sporadic group of islands, features the sort of splendour that inspires Hollywood location scouts. Skiathos, with its airport, cobbled port and abundance of beaches and diving, is the most visited. Skopelos is more rugged, but, mamma mia, it's beautiful.

Ionian Coast

This stretch of appealing beaches and pretty coves in the north west of Greece features a refreshingly cooler climate, olive and cypress trees, mountains and forest. French, British and Venetian influences are noticeable in the architecture, culture and cuisine, contributing to the unique feel of Ionian life.

Corfu

Corfu boasts a fascinating history where a succession of occupiers stamped their signatures on the local customs and architecture. Today this luxuriantly verdant island is an intoxicating mix of fine beaches, lush hillsides, blue skies, clear azure waters, atmospheric towns and a Venetian style capital.

Fira, Santorini

Kefalonia

The largest of the Ionian Islands, Kefalonia is known for its delightful bays, stunning beaches, including the fabulously photogenic, cliff-backed Myrtos beach, turquoise waters and mountains. The island garnered a degree of fame from its starring role in the film adaptation of Captain Correlli's Mandolin.

Mykonos

Mykonos is one of the most enduring yet alternative islands of the Cyclades. Embraced by celebrities and famed for its nightlife, it's also profoundly beautiful with picturesque windmills, whitewashed sugar cube houses, appealing coastline and superb beaches catering for all types of sunseekers.

Santorini

Santorini is stunning and spectacular. Surrounded by midnight blue waters, black volcanic beaches and built upon sheer lava cliffs, picturesque villages of white sugar cube houses cling to the varicoloured rocks. Arched roofs, blue domed churches and magnificent sunsets dominate the skyline.

Kos

Fringed by some of the very finest beaches of the Dodecanese, and blessed with lush valleys, Kos is an island of endless treasures. Ancient Greek ruins are scattered wherever you turn, and a monumental medieval castle still watches over the capital's harbour. Turkey is but a short boat trip distant.

Rhodes

Ancient Greeks worshipped Rhodes as their Island of Sun; long sunny days lengthen the summer here. And sandy beaches are dotted all over. History-lovers flock to the majesty of Lindos' Acropolis and ancient village. Adventure aficionados go hiking and mountain biking, and kite and windsurfing.

Crete

Crete, the largest of all Greek islands, is regarded by many as a country within a country. North coast beaches are long, sandy and breezy, others are shorter but secluded, most are sandy, all are fringed by azure waters. The island has a proud history and gifts sunseekers with the longest of summers.

Cyprus

With a rich and diverse history and delightful Mediterranean island climate, Cyprus maintains its popular year-round holiday appeal boasting a natural beauty of stunning beaches, rugged coastlines, rolling hills and forest clad mountains. There's no shortage of remarkable ancient ruins and treasures.

Paphos, Cyprus

Halkidiki

Assos Village, Kefalonia

Voidokilia Beach, Peloponnese

Santorini

Welcome to Greece & Cyprus

Greece enjoys one of Europe's warmest climates with much sunshine and little rainfall. April, May, September and October are ideal months to visit. During the height of summer, the dry hot days are cooled by seasonal winds called the meltemi, while mountainous regions have generally lower temperatures. Southern Greece can be up to four degrees warmer than the north.

Cyprus has a typical Mediterranean climate but its proximity to the landmass of Asia makes it one of the hottest parts of Europe. Cyprus' fine weather and beaches may encourage you to relax on a sunbed with your holiday reading, but dig into the past here and you'll unearth the entire history of the Mediterranean.

Sights

Located in south eastern Europe, Greece is the meeting point of three seas: Ionian to the west, Mediterranean to the south, Aegean to the east. Away from the beaches, Greece is also renowned for its archaeological sites, of which Delphi, Knossos, the Acropolis and Olympia are the most notable. Delphi, believed by ancient Greeks to be the centre of the world, is set on Mount Parnassos, overlooking the Gulf of Corinth. Knossos, a vast royal residence and cultural, ceremonial and political centre, is the most magnificent of Crete's Minoan sites. The Acropolis in Athens was rebuilt during the city's golden age and the Parthenon completed in 438BC. Olympia, on the Peloponnese peninsula, is the shrine of Zeus, in whose honour the Olympic Games were held every four years.

Steeped in myth and coveted by many conquerors, Cyprus' tumultuous past has left ancient riches strewn across this island. Neolithic dwellings, Bronze Age and Phoenician tombs, Roman mosaics, mountaintop castles and beautifully frescoed Byzantine churches lay scattered through the countryside. Delight in the scenery of the pine-clad Troodos Mountains and Mount Olympus. On the west coast the Akamas National Park is home to the Baths of Aphrodite, the impressive Avakas Gorge, the turtle breeding ground of Lara Beach and the Blue Lagoon. West of Limassol the archaeological site of Kourion, perched on a hillside overlooking the sea, is one of the most impressive on the island. Paphos has plenty to discover with the Tombs of the Kings, the Temple of Aphrodite, and Kato Paphos Archaeological Park.

Activities

For adrenalin-inducing pursuits or lazy days in the sun, Greece has the answer. Days pass by beneath cloudless skies and beside cobalt blue seas where islands are fringed by white sand beaches. Wander through ancient history, hike mountains, spot sea turtles and dolphins, and cycle through lush forests and wildflower meadows. Thrill seekers can enjoy world-class kitesurfing, wreck diving, and rock-climbing locations with unforgettable views. Or just take a boat and sail into the wide blue yonder.

Sun-soaked stretches of sand are Cyprus' calling card and every conceivable water sport is on offer; from scuba diving to skimming the surface on a kite or windsurf boards. And if you tire of all that blue, strike out into the interior, where wildflower meadows and vineyards sweep up to pine-clad mountains offering hiking, rambling and horse-riding. Cycle hire facilities exist in most resorts. For golfers, Secret Valley, Tsada Golf and Aphrodite Hills are excellent 18 hole courses near Paphos.

Family activities

On the mainland Halkidiki's beaches will keep the children happy, as will a plethora of superb family resort hotels. Parga, on the Ionian Coast, is popular with families too. All over Greece, medieval forts and ancient ruins are great for encouraging younger minds to make-believe. There are opportunities to splash around in water parks at some of the larger and more popular locations on Rhodes and Crete, and in Athens. With so many islands from which to choose, zip over the sea in a catamaran, bob up and down in a fishing boat or kayak, or sail to a secluded bay on a day trip.

Cyprus is definitely a family-friendly destination. The culture revolves around the extended family and children are adored. Paphos overflows with watery activities including Aphrodite Waterpark, boat rides, fishing trips and snorkelling. Or there's the spine-tingling trip to the Tomb of the Kings. In Larnaca children will really enjoy underwater activities, sandy beaches, sea caves, camel rides and a fascinating museum all about the sea.

Cuisine

Feta and olive oil are staples of Greek cuisine, but there are also unique, regional cooking styles and produce which add variety to the culinary landscape. Herbs and vegetables vary from mainland to islands. Cheeses are honeyed and soft, hard and sharp or just superbly crumbly. Fish is straight from the sea, mussels best steamed in ouzo and bread baked with olives. There's a distinct Italian influence to Greek risottos and pastas. Delicate Turkish spices infuse the sweets.

Heavily influenced by Turkish, Greek and Middle Eastern food cultures, Cypriot cooking has some of its own culinary stars, including haloumi cheese, pork cooked in red wine sauce, known as afelia, and sheftalia, grilled sausages and a favourite for kebabs. And don't forget the desserts. Flavoured with almonds, rose water and pistachios, sweet treats range from comforting rice puddings to gloriously sticky baklava.

Welcome to Athens

As Rome is eternal, so Athens is immortal. Situated in the Attica province and surrounded by mountains, the Greek capital is a modern city combined with a glorious past encapsulating mythology and history, and the birthplace of democracy. Athens is home to some of the most important heritage sites of Greek civilisation from antiquity through the middle ages to modern times.

Ancient and modern

As a historic European capital with a past that reached its zenith in the 5th century BC, Athens is attributed as the birthplace of democracy. Today, this sprawling vibrant city is home to over four million people and historical and cultural buildings abound. Most attractions are sited within the city centre and, mainly attributable to the hosting of the 2004 Olympic Games, there's a good train and tram network, with many pedestrianised roads around the major archaeological sites. The historic triangle includes the districts of Plaka, Thissio and Psyrri where neoclassical mansions and modern architecture, fashionable department stores and small artisan shops, sophisticated restaurants and traditional tavernas, happily co-exist. The modern city encompasses Monastiraki Square with its interesting flea market, vibrant Omonia Square, and Syntagma Square, home to some of the city's most luxurious hotels.

Must see

The Acropolis is visible from almost anywhere in the city, and is considered by many to be the most important ancient site in the Western world. Little can prepare the viewer for the breathtaking magnificence of Pericles' architectural masterpiece. The Agora is the heart of ancient Athens and is a refreshing break from the congested city streets. It is dotted with beautiful monuments including the world's first shopping arcade, the best preserved Doric temple in Greece. The National Archaeological Museum is the largest museum in Greece and is of world importance in the study of ancient Greek art. Athens is also home to the most technologically advanced and largest digital planetarium in the world, featuring 3D virtual trips to the galaxy, with simultaneous narration in English, as well as IMAX movies from its near three hundred seat amphitheatre.

There are also the National Gardens which are considered one of Athens' greatest treasures, a tropical paradise in the middle of the city; stroll, feed the ducks and visit the botanical museum. Although visitors will want to explore its culture and history, the city also offers a vibrant nightlife with a multitude of restaurants and tavernas. All over the Greek capital there's a fresh appreciation for Greece's food heritage and the amazing natural produce that is available. There's a strong tradition of eating out although dinner is taken late and often in multigenerational groups. Long leisurely taverna lunches are also popular. With a wealth of sights to see, vibrant Athens is an ideal year-round destination boasting mild winters and hot summers.

Acropolis

One of the most important historical sites in the world and a must see for any visitor to Athens, the Acropolis combines ancient monuments and buildings including the Parthenon, the vast temple built in the fifth century BC and dedicated to Athena Parthenos, Greek goddess of wisdom and war and namesake of the city.

Mount Lycabettus

Sitting 300 metres above sea level and the highest point in Athens, Mount Lycabettus commands outstanding views over the entire city and much like the Acropolis, it can be seen from almost anywhere in Athens.

Panathenaic Stadium

Originally constructed in the fourth century BC, the Panathenaic Stadium is the birthplace of Ancient Greek athletic competitions of strength and endurance. Restored for the 1896 Olympic Games, this is the only stadium in the world constructed entirely from white marble.

National Gardens

Located in the heart of the city, the National Gardens can be a pleasant and welcoming refuge from the searing summer sun. They include a small zoological garden and tranquil duck ponds. Guided Segway tours are also available to include Hadrian's Arch, the Temple of Zeus, Parliament House and the Presidential Mansion.

Plaka

Lying under the shadow of the Acropolis, Plaka is the oldest neighbourhood in Athens and is highly recommended. With narrow streets, Byzantine churches and Neoclassical architecture, you'll delight in its abundance of cafes, restaurants and shops.

Museums

The National Archaeological Museum houses the world's largest collection of Greek antiquities and artefacts and is, perhaps, the most important museum in Greece. In addition, the Acropolis Museum and the Museum of Cycladic Art contain over 3,000 artefacts and pieces of Ancient Greek and Cypriot art such as vases, figurines and weapons.

Welcome to The Peloponnese

In ancient times the Peloponnese was referred to as Moreas owing to the resemblance of its outline to a mulberry leaf. This area of Greece is culturally rich and a naturally beautiful region with Costa Navarino in the Messinia area an eco-friendly, sophisticated resort providing luxury experiences against a backdrop which can only be described as beautiful.

The Peloponnese

The Peloponnese boasts a delightful coastline with an interior of soaring mountains, deep gorges, green valleys, olive groves and wildflower meadows. Although geographically it is technically an island, similar to other land masses disconnected from their host by a man-made waterway, the Peloponnese, separated by the famed Corinth Canal, is described as a beautiful, unspoilt peninsula, and it definitely plays host to the best that traditional Greece has to offer. Ancient sites include the Homeric Palace of Agamemnon at Mycenae and the Palace of Nestor at nearby Pylos, the best preserved Greek theatres at Epidaurus, and the lush sanctuary of Olympia; host to the classical Olympic Games. Medieval sites include the fabulous Venetian, Frankish and Turkish castles of Nafplio, Methoni and ancient Corinth, the battle towers and frescoed churches of Mani, and the well-preserved Byzantine enclaves of Mystras and Monemvasia.

Costa Navarino

This is one of Greece's newest resorts; a luxurious eco-friendly development combining fine accommodation and superb facilities in the idyllic setting of rural Messinia which boasts coastal forests, hills, mountains and pretty, little traditional villages. Fulfilling the vision of its creator, two smart, design-led, resort hotels have been created with the finest workmanship. Signature golf courses nestle close to stunningly beautiful sandy beaches. Although all the local beaches remain beautifully untouched, in order to create the resort, roads and rivers were diverted, reservoirs created and lawns fashioned amongst new and old olive groves and ancient ruins, trees were lifted and lovingly replanted, shrubs heeled in and roof gardens created. Beyond the resort is the Mani peninsula, easily reached by car, with its historical sites, nature reserves and fantastic wild beaches to discover.

Activities

It's easy to relax at the beach, in the gardens or at the exotic spa, but Costa Navarino is also fantastic for a plethora of cultural and sporting activities. All year round there are weekly half day traditional cooking lessons in nearby Pylos village plus various hour-long events including philosophy walks, olive oil tasting tutorials and wine master classes. Led by a professional, there are photography tutorials and, during October and November, you can participate in the olive harvest. There's tennis and every kind of watersport, organised road cycling tours, some challenging mountain bike adventures and numerous cultural and archaeological walking expeditions including a day's hike at the Taygetos Mountain. Our travel consultants can help plan itineraries and, where activities are payable, give you details of the costs.

Sightseeing in The Peloponnese

Mycenae

Fortified Mycenae was the largest settlement in the powerful Mycenaean civilization between the 15th and 12th century BC. This Bronze Age city is regarded as the home of the Agamemnon and is a UNESCO World Heritage site owing to its profound cultural influence upon later Greek civilizations.

Theatre of Epidaurus

This stunningly well-preserved ancient theatre, constructed in the 4th century BC, overlooks the Sanctuary of Asklepius. Excavations revealed the ancient monument towards the end of the 19th century and it is now a popular venue for the annual Athens Festival held each summer.

Archaeological Museum of Olympia

The site of the ancient Olympic Games and one of the most visited in Greece, the museum includes the ruins of the ancient stadium, the Temple of Zeus and the Temple of Hera.

Monemvasia

Monemvasia is a medieval castle town, carved on the slopes of a rock off the eastern coast of the Peloponnese and regarded as one of the most romantic places in Greece. This fortified city with its cobbled streets and stone houses was constructed during the Middle Ages and is still a major attraction today.

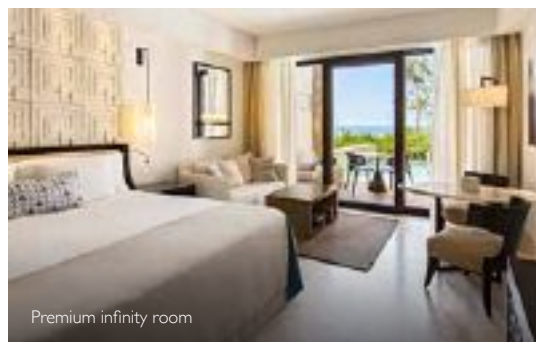

Elafonisos Island

Elafonisos is a small paradise island off the coast of the Peloponnese blessed with white sand beaches. Spend a day here sunbathing, swimming and snorkelling in the turquoise waters.

Beaches and small islands

The extensive coastline of the Peloponnese boasts some spectacular beaches including Voidokilia, in Messinia, Gialova in Navarino Bay or the hidden Vlychadia near Kyparissi. The small islands of Hydra and Spetses are so close that day trips are also a must.

Welcome to Thessaloniki

As Greece's second city, Thessaloniki, is cultured and fashionable offering great nightlife, terrific shopping, fine dining and a glorious history. It's more mild-mannered and less hectic than Athens and, as northern Greece's central transport hub, it offers convenient connections to Halkidiki and the Olympus Riviera with their award winning beaches.

The city

As the capital of the geographic region of Macedonia, this is a modern, seafront metropolis with a cosmopolitan character; yet it still bears the hallmarks of a stormy history. Thessaloniki boasts enduring symbols of a glorious past including the White Tower soaring over the café-lined waterfront, Ottoman hammams, now eclectic art galleries, and Byzantine walls stretching to Upper Town, Ano Poli, itself an enchanting mix of colourful old houses, winding alleyways and ancient churches. Grand buildings include the 5th century Church of Agios Dimitrios, an enormous Roman Rotunda, and the ruins of Roman Emperor Galerius' 3rd century palace. Situated next to the sea at the Thermaikos Gulf, Thessaloniki is a major university town ensuring a vibrancy in the bars and cafes outside normal tourist months and this, together with its compactness, makes for a delightful visit at any time of the year.

Attractions

There are a plethora of sites, galleries and museums, and some of the highlights include the White Tower, the symbol of Thessaloniki, constructed in the 16th century by the Ottomans. It was firstly a fortress, then a prison, a university workshop, and finally it has become one of the city's many museums. The Arch of Galerius, more often referred to as Kamara, is a popular passageway and meeting point for students, locals and tourists. The historic Rotunda is an impressive circular building in the centre of the city; constructed originally by Galerius around 300AD, in late 4th century AD it became a Christian church and was decorated with frescoes, later still it was converted into a mosque by the Ottomans, returned to a church in the early 19th century, and it is now a sculpture museum.

The 5th century church of Agios Dimitrios is the most famous church in Thessaloniki. Saint Dimitrios is the patron saint of the city and he is celebrated each year with a local holiday on 26 October. Although Thessaloniki is mostly famous for its sightseeing, it's not all culture and there are fine restaurants, lively bars and great cafes and there are sandy beaches only a few kilometres from the city.

Two centre holidays

Thessaloniki is great for a city break, however we highly recommend a two centre holiday, spending three or four days discovering the city then transferring by private transfer; journey time around 60 minutes, to one of our luxury hotels on the popular peninsulas of Halkidiki.

Alexander the Great

Dominating Thessaloniki's waterfront and close to the White Tower, this imposing bronze statue celebrates Alexander the Great mounted on his faithful companion of 20 years, and one of the most famous horses of antiquity, Bucephalus.

Arch of Galerius, Kamara

In the heart of the city, the imposing Kamara was built between 298 and 305 AD and was part of a palace commemorating Galerius' triumphant victory against the Persians. It is one of the 15 Byzantine Monuments of Thessaloniki and listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Archaeological Museum of Thessaloniki

Notable exhibits of a museum which first opened its doors in 1912, include the head of Serapis, the statue of Harocrates, gold medals and Medusa heads. It also hosts findings from the wider area of Thessaloniki representing the Macedonian culture of prehistoric years.

Church of St Dimitrios

The church dates to when Thessaloniki was the second largest city of the Byzantine Empire and is dedicated to Saint Dimitrios, the patron saint of the city. Part of the Palaeochristian and Byzantine Monuments of Thessaloniki and listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Church of St Paul the Apostle

Close to the fortress walls of Thessaloniki this majestic church is situated in the north eastern district of St Paul, and is dedicated to the Apostle and to his arrival into Thessaloniki around 50 AD.

Welcome to the Sporades Islands

From sunsets to shipwrecks this scattered, sporadic group of islands, features the sort of splendour that inspires Hollywood location scouts. Skiathos, with its airport, cobbled port and abundance of beaches and diving, is the most visited. Skopelos is more rugged, but, mamma mia, it's beautiful.

Skiathos

It may be the smallest of the Sporades Islands but Skiathos, approximately 12km by 6km, with its sheltered south coast and naturally scenic north coast is the most famous, notably for its delightfully pretty beaches of which there are more than sixty. Koukounaries beach in the southwest, at the end of the main coast road from Skiathos Town, is the most attractive; it is named after the surrounding pine trees and boasts golden sands and clear Aegean waters along a shoreline more than a kilometre long. In addition to the stunning coastline, Skiathos enjoys some interesting history principally as a resting place for travellers including those battling against Troy, and Jason and his Argonauts. Skiathos Town, the capital, is built on two hills and the iconic Bourtzi fortress, originally a Venetian Citadel, sits on a tiny peninsula between two harbours. The town's narrow streets are lined with whitewashed houses and crammed with geranium and bougainvillea. From the town, transport by bus is frequent and easy along the south coast, by boat there are unmissable day and sunset trips and, by ferry, thrice-daily 90 minute transfers to Skopelos.

Skopelos

Larger, quieter and mesmerisingly pretty, this rocky island is reached by ferry, a sailing duration of around 30 minutes, from Skiathos and boasts a beautiful Aegean port with winding cobbled streets, more than 120 churches, and steep hills rising from the harbour. The town teems with life and there's a plethora of tavernas and bars. Skopelos history dates back more than 18 centuries with its aphrodisiac wine, noted by Aristotle, and its wonderful olive oil, but the island enjoys fame and fortune from a more recent past. Movie goers and ABBA fans alike will recognise Kastani as Mamma Mia! beach and Amarantos Cape as the film's extraordinarily scenic location. Additionally, the island is blessed with numerous beaches including popular Stafylos, shingle covered Agnondas and Limnonari, a beautiful cove sheltering one of the island's few sandy beaches.

Sightseeing on the Sporades Islands

Skiathos Town

At the heart of the island you'll find many restaurants, bars, clubs and shops. Walking around the streets is an excellent way to spend a relaxed evening and familiarise yourself with its architecture and the local way of living.

Castle of Skiathos

Located on the northern side of the island, this former Medieval fortification, known locally as Il Kastro, is a fantastic way to spend some time away from the beach. Built on a rocky cliff, remains include structures of old churches and surrounding walls, accessible only by boat or an uneven pathway.

Skiathos Sea Caves

Lalaria on the northern side of Skiathos is home to a wild landscape and crystal clear waters, highly recommended for swimming and snorkelling with tour boats from Skiathos Town.

The Monastery of Panagia Evangelistria

Located 5km north of Skiathos Town, the monastery was built in the early 19th century and has great historical importance for the part that it played in the Greek War of Independence.

Skopelos Town

The largest and oldest settlement on Skopelos, the Choro is a mass of tangled alleys and stairways flanked by traditional whitewashed houses and draped with bougainvillea.

Agios Ioannis Chapel

Set on a steep outcrop 100 metres above the sea, the tricky climb is soon forgotten upon reaching the terrace and enjoying the view of the delightful cove below. The icon of St John is located here and according to local legend was discovered sitting alone atop the rock.

Welcome to the Ionian Coast

The area of Greek mainland known as Epirus borders Albania and is directly opposite the island of Corfu. Its interior is a lush and soaring landscape reminiscent of Scotland at its finest. There are mountain villages, dense forests, low-key seaside resorts and the gloriously unspoilt Ionian Sea coastline stretching from Igoumenista in the north to Preveza and Lefkada to the south.

Attractions

In this, the most mountainous region of Greece, is, according to the Guinness Book of World Records, the world's deepest canyon, the Vikas Gorge. Epirus feels remote and largely undiscovered. It boasts desolate and lonely clifftop monasteries, soul-stirring mountain vistas, skies patrolled by birds of prey including golden eagles, forests, waterfalls, ice-cold mountain lakes and the charming Zagori villages which bring to mind Alpine retreats. Somewhat unexpectedly this area is also home to Greece's third largest city, the lovely lakeside Ioannina. The lowlands and coast are wonderful too. The turquoise Ionian Sea laps at a wild and dramatic coastline with a few long sandy beaches and low-key seaside resorts of note. Preveza's yacht harbour has an international clientele, and the massive ruins of Nicopolis, the largest ancient city of Greece, sprawl casually by the road.

Our resorts

In this area of outstanding natural beauty, a stretch of appealing beaches and coves unfurls between Sivota, to the north, and Parga, in the south. Some of the beaches are busy, others provide escape-from-it-all serenity, but all are lapped by the turquoise and crystal clear waters of the Ionian Sea.

Sivota

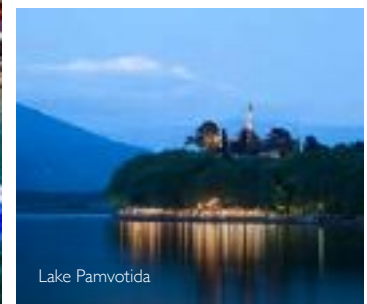

Sivota is backed by lush forests of pine and cypress and plentiful olive groves. The harbour remains the focal point of the village. Here tavernas serve the catch of day straight off the boats and flotillas of yachts moor in the town's charming marina. Sandy beaches of white sand and rocky coves are yours to explore. Just off Sivota are small wooded islands and even smaller islets. Here you'll discover the paradise beaches of pristine sand and cobalt blue waters. Take a boat from the mainland or attempt the foot crossing via a strip of narrow golden sand.

Parga

Parga has been known to flirt with celebrities in order to maintain its reputation as one of Greece's most photogenic holiday resorts, and features sandy beaches aplenty. Its deep, picturesque bay brings to mind ancient amphitheatres, where the small wooded island of Panagia steals the limelight, centre stage, beneath the town's Venetian castle. Stroll up to the old town where distinguished architecture waits to be admired, wander around Parga's heart of cobbled stone streets and beautiful arches, discover flower-filled neighbourhoods of charming little houses and pastel coloured villas. At sunset take a romantic walk along the waterfront where stylish restaurants and cosy bars offer views of the castle and Panagia islet.

Car hire is highly recommended to make the most of the beautiful surroundings of this remote and undiscovered area of coast, mountains, lakes, monasteries and villages.

Sightseeing on the Ionian Coast

Sivota harbour

With many beaches dotted along the unspoilt Ionian Coast, all manner of boating excursions and island charters leave from here. You can hire motorboats if you fancy exploring the coast at your own pace.

Metsovo

This mountain village is widely regarded as one of the most traditional in Greece, and is two hours' drive east from Sivota. Famed for centuries of shepherding and the production of unique colourful hand woven textiles, during the 17th and 18th centuries it supplied the wool not only to Ioannina and nearby villages but throughout the Balkans and even north Africa.

Meteora

Just under a three hour drive east of Sivota, rising above the city of Kalampaka, Meteora is a series of incredible sandstone rock towers where, dating back to the 11th century, 24 monasteries were constructed on the peaks of the columns to enable monks to live as hermits. Today six of the monasteries have survived and this awe-inspiring area is now a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Acheron River

Only 35 minutes from Parga, Acheron River is an area of outstanding natural beauty famed for its mythological springs. In ancient Greece Acheron was one of the five rivers of the Greek underworld.

Ioannina

The regional capital city on the shores of Lake Pamvotida is just under 90 minutes' drive east from Sivota. There's plenty of fascinating history to explore, including the Cathedral of St Athanasius and an impressive 6th century castle.

Welcome to Corfu

This luxuriantly verdant Island of Eden boasts fantastic beaches, clear azure waters, and a particularly charming Venetian style capital. Corfu also has a fascinating history to discover: a succession of occupiers stamped their own signatures on the local customs and architecture.

The island

Corfu, the best known and second largest Ionian island, is adorned with slender cypress trees, three million olive trees, and an abundance of fresh produce including tomatoes, herbs, lemons, kumquats and olives. The island's coastline stretches for more than 200km with fabulous sweeping bays, secluded coves, and beautiful golden sand, shingle or pebble beaches leading to crystal clear azure waters; blue flag Glyfada on the west coast is considered to be the top beach in the whole of Greece. Corfu's most treasured beauty spot, Paleokastritsa, comprises spectacular scenery, gorgeous beaches and secluded coves set around numerous bays and a cliff top monastery. Owing to its strategic importance, it is steeped in history from successive occupations by Romans, Sicilians, Venetians, French, and the British who left behind a fascinating legacy of brass bands, cricket and ginger beer.

Corfu Town

One of the loveliest towns in Greece, UNESCO listed Corfu Town is bookended by Venetian fortresses and has numerous historical landmarks to explore on foot or by horse drawn carriage. Charming, unique and influenced by its former occupiers, the Old Town boasts elegant mansions, palaces, Byzantine churches, Venetian castles and magnificent flower filled French style town squares. Summer cricket matches are held in central Spianada Square. To the north lies the elegant palace of St Michael and St George. To the west, the Liston pedestrianised area, inspired by Paris' Rue de Rivoli, features elegant arcades, fine restaurants and cafes. The 16th century St Spyridon Church houses the mummified remains of the island's patron saint, and Panaghia Spiliotissa Cathedral contains important Byzantine icons. There's fashionable shopping in the new part of town, and cosmopolitan restaurants, bars and a vibrant nightlife around the port.

Our resorts

Located 6km to the north of Corfu Town, the charming village of Kontokali boasts a sheltered bay and a sand and shingle beach. Nightlife is low key and traditional. On the east coast, 18km south of Corfu Town, Agios Ioannis Peristeron is perfect for families and beach lovers with its long sand and pebble beach and watersports. In the surrounding area there are beachside tavernas, mini-markets, lovely coves, lush forests and picturesque villages. Aqualand is 14km distant. On the east coast Dassia and Kommeno Bay are friendly, relaxed resorts framed by fragrant pine woods and blue flag pebble beaches. One of the most popular beaches on Corfu, blue flag Glyfada, 16km west of Corfu Town, has soft golden sand, imposing cliffs and low key entertainment.

Sightseeing on Corfu

Paleokastritsa

Surrounded by olive groves and backed by verdant hills, the island's most treasured beauty spot, Paleokastritsa, comprises spectacular scenery, gorgeous beaches with crystal clear waters and plenty of watersports, secluded coves set around numerous bays, an array of delightful seafood tavernas and a 17th century cliff top monastery.

Mount Pantokrator

The highest peak on the island of Corfu, Mount Pantokrator, boasts splendid views. Dominating the northern part of the island at over 900 metres, and occasionally snow-capped in winter, spring is the best time to visit when the slopes are covered with beautiful wildflowers.

Paxos

Take a day trip across to the tranquil, unspoilt island of Paxos. Just south of Corfu on this, the smallest of the Ionian Islands, life is set at an unhurried pace and there are beautiful coves, pebbly beaches, three charming main villages, and numerous breathtaking sea caves set into the cliffside along the rugged west coast.

Achilleion Palace

Built as a summer palace for the Empress of Austria, Elizabeth Sissi in 1890, the Achilleion Palace, near Gastouri, features beautiful interiors, wonderful gardens and magnificent sea views; James Bond film aficionados may recognise it from For Your Eyes Only.

Museums

There are a number of interesting museums in Corfu Town including the impressive Archaeological Museum, the Asian Art museum with its splendid collection of Chinese porcelain, Japanese Samurai knights' armour, religious paintings and sculptures, and Mon Repos Palace with its fascinating exhibits dating from Roman times through to the 19th century.

Welcome to Kefalonia

The largest and most mountainous of the seven Ionian Islands and boasting the islands' highest peak, Mount Enos, Kefalonia is noteworthy for its delightful bays, beaches and pine-covered slopes. Kefalonia was made internationally famous when its commanding scenery became such a captivating feature of the film adaptation of the Louis de Bernieres' novel, Captain Corelli's Mandolin.

The island

Perhaps Kefalonia's greatest assets are its beautiful coves, bays and beaches. On the west coast, the perfect horseshoe harbour of Assos, and its adjoining isthmus, provide great swimming, better even than the more famous Myrtos beach which, although extraordinarily beautiful to look at, is coarse pebbled, and challenging when the surf is up. With calmer waters and smaller pebbles, Agia Efimia is a fishing village on the east coast, and between it and the more functional port of Sami, lies the Melissani cave with its underground lake partially open to the sky. Nearby, the cave of Drogarati, an occasional venue for concerts, features multi-coloured stalactites and stalagmite. Kefalonia's capital town, Argostoli, boasts a British-built pedestrian bridge across the lagoon, and trendy cafes and smart shops on the elegant pedestrianised area of Lithostroto.

Our resorts

Fiskardo, at the northern tip of the island, has a reputation as the island's most glamorous town. The waterfront is a colourful blend of fishing boats, smart yachts, restaurants and pretty, pastel coloured Venetian style buildings draped in bougainvillea. Any number of beautiful pebble beaches and stunning coves can be found nearby. Sami, at the mid-point of the east coast, is home to a small beach of white stones, turquoise seas, and is surrounded by pine trees. The beach that it is known for, Antisamos, which featured in the film Captain Corelli's Mandolin, is widely regarded as one of the finest beaches in Greece. On the southern tip of the island there's the busy resort of Skala with its superb sand and gravel beach, and a Roman villa with some fine mosaics. At the mid-point of the west coast, Platis Gialos beach is renowned for its unspoilt beauty.

Cuisine

Charming family-run tavernas serve fresh fish, puff pastry meat pies called kreatopita, and local specialities of seafood and riganata, feta cheese mixed with bread, oil and oregano. Combine all of this with the island's heavenly Robola wine; what grows together goes together.

Island hopping

Kefalonia is a delightful island. It rejoices in a wild, mountainous charm, and a coastline of castles and monasteries. A spot of island hopping is always desirable, and from Sami it's easy to board a ferry to visit nearby Ithaca, the fabled home of Homer's hero, Odysseus.

Sightseeing on Kefalonia

Boat tours and beaches

All manner of boat excursions and charters are available on the island including motorboat, sailing or glass-bottomed boat, and village stop tours with many secluded beaches waiting to be explored.

Melissani Cave

Kefalonia has a number of worthwhile and intriguing caves to explore including Melissani Cave, a 40 metre wide underwater lake once worshipped by the Ancient Greeks which has a history tied to the ancient Acropolis. Archaeologists have discovered pots and boat fragments that link to a myth concerning the nymph, Melissanthi.

Myrtos Beach

Myrtos Beach features the blue seas of the Mediterranean backed by the verdant hills of Kefalonia. This crescent-shaped beach, regarded by many as one of Greece's finest, is framed by white cliffs and draws many visitors to its vibrant sunsets and stunning views.

Monastery of Agios Gerasimos

Dating back to 1560 the monastery sits beneath Mount Ainos, near the villages of Falgrata and Valsamata. Named after Kefalonia's patron saint, Saint Gerasimos, visitors can view his tomb, two cave-like quarters located beneath the monastery, and learn of his legendary reputation of curing many people of mental illness.

Fiskardo Harbour

This traditional harbour is home to many cafes, shops, restaurants and bars, which look out on small fishing boats and luxurious yachts in the summer months. In addition, the alleyways behind the harbour are home to a diverse selection of shops, tavernas and beautiful Byzantine churches.

Welcome to Mykonos

Gateway to the sacred island of Delos and surrounded by the Aegean, Mykonos is one of the most cosmopolitan islands of the Cyclades and boasts picturesque windmills, traditional white washed sugar cube houses, a beautiful coastline, excellent sandy beaches, first class hotels and great nightlife.

The island

One of the most visited of the Greek Islands, Mykonos is also one of the smaller, more arid islands of the Cyclades. Aside from a sophisticated, cosmopolitan, alternative and diverse clientele, it also enjoys an impressive 300 days of sunshine each year. It boasts beautiful bays and numerous pristine sandy beaches along the south coast, including the blue flag, family friendly, Ornos, picturesque Agios Ioannis, and the party beaches of Paradise and Super Paradise. Mykonos Town features trademark white windmills and typical Cycladic architecture with a labyrinth of narrow, pedestrianised streets, and offers stylish nightlife and myriad restaurants lining the harbour front. The UNESCO listed World Heritage site of Delos, the sacred island, is close by. This archaeological, historical and mythological wonder is famed for its Doric temples and the iconic statues of the Terrace of Lions. It is well worth a visit.

Mykonos Town

Traditional, yet sophisticated and glamorous, Mykonos Town, viewed by many as the St Tropez of the Aegean, attracts celebrity in-crowds and boasts some of the most luxurious accommodation in the Cyclades. There's chic designer shopping, art galleries, and a vibrant nightlife which includes elegant restaurants, Greek tavernas and stylish bars, and plentiful nightclubs. Picture postcard pretty, with its landmark whitewashed windmills overlooking the harbour and traditional Cycladic sugar cube houses clinging to the hillside, the capital is one of the most beautiful towns in the Greek Islands. Becoming very lively of an evening, the charming artistic quarter Alefkandra, known as Little Venice, is better known by day for its enchanting Venetian-style houses, art galleries, trendy cafes, bars and the much photographed Panagia Paraportiani churches. Keep an eye open for the town's resident pelican mascots.

Our resorts

The island's longest beach, Elia, is consistently awarded blue flag status and attracts a diverse crowd with its laid-back ambiance, plentiful watersports, tavernas and beach bars. Picturesque Agios Ioannis, of Shirley Valentine movie fame, is 4km from Mykonos Town; gorgeous views to the island of Delos are a feature. A long stretch of fine white sand is punctuated by a number of smaller coves. The resort offers traditional tavernas and a good range of hotels. Located 4km south of Mykonos Town, the family friendly beach resort of Platis Yialos boasts turquoise waters, a wonderful long sandy beach, watersports, bars and restaurants. There are regular taxi boat services from here to other beaches along the south coast: picturesque Paraga, tranquil and secluded Agrari, and the magnificent Super Paradise and Plintri: both enjoy a hedonistic party atmosphere where all over tans are de rigueur.

Museums

Located next to the harbour in Mykonos Town, the Archaeological Museum contains sculptures, ceramics and jewellery from the island of Delos, including an impressive vase recording the oldest image of the Trojan Horse. The town's Nautical Museum displays model ships, and there's also a Folklore Museum.

Panagia Paraportiani

At the entrance of the Kastro, castle, the beautiful and much-photographed Panagia Paraportiani complex, dating from the late 14th to the 17th centuries, comprises four churches which form a base for the fifth, Paraportiani, which sits atop to create a central domed roof.

Island of Delos

Just off the Mykonos coast is the tiny sacred island of Delos which, according to Greek mythology, is the birthplace of Apollo and his twin sister, Artemis. Considered an important sanctuary during ancient times, numerous temples, statues and sanctuaries were built and the island became a powerful commercial and spiritual centre. The island is reached by 30 minute taxi boat ride from Mykonos Town, although the sea can be choppy.

Monastery of Panagia Touliani

Located 7km from Mykonos Town, the traditional village of Ano Mera, the second largest settlement on the island boasts a main square lined with typical Greek tavernas and Kafenions, coffee shops, plus the 16th century Monastery of Panagia Touliani with its fine Cretan icons, a marble bell tower with intricate carvings, and a small museum.

Welcome to Santorini

Surrounded by dazzling Aegean waters, Santorini is simply stunning, one of the spectacles of the Mediterranean. Small, picturesque villages of white sugar cube houses cling to the island's volcanic cliffs. Arched roofs and blue domed churches dominate the skyline. Black volcanic beaches and beautifully clear waters typify the coast. Its magnificent sunsets are the stuff of legend.

The island

Formerly an important outpost in the southern Cyclades for the Minoans, a violent volcanic eruption in 1600BC created an enormous, mostly submerged, caldera with just the east rim remaining above sea level. The resulting crescent shape of land is the island of Santorini. Some speculate that the eruption was sufficiently powerful to bring the Minoan civilisation to an end, and the ensuing tsunami may also have given rise to the legend of the lost land of Atlantis. Nowadays, the island offers traditional architecture, a relaxed way of life plus gently shelving delightful shingle, pebble and dark volcanic sand beaches on its east coast. Tucked away in the southwest, against an impressive backdrop of red and black volcanic rock, the impressive Red Beach offers crystal clear waters, perfect for snorkelling. For a sense of the ancient volcano take a trip to the hot springs of the caldera's islets.

Oia

Exquisite Oia, pronounced Eeya, is famous for tranquillity and spectacular sunsets. From its vantage point at the summit of impressive cliffs, it features unparalleled views of the caldera, blue domed churches and white Cycladic buildings, punctuated with bursts of blue shutters, bougainvillea and oleander. An array of stylish bars, cafes, restaurants and shops line the narrow clifftop walkway. Popular with artists, there are numerous galleries. 300 steps below is Ammoudia whence boats leave for the island of Thirassia.

Fira

Fira, the island's stylish capital, offers boutiques, jewellers, trendy bars, excellent restaurants and lively nightlife. It's perched on the eastern rim of the volcano, 260 metres above sea level. Dazzling white washed buildings cling to the cliffside and pedestrianised cobbled streets wind their way up the terraces. Access is by foot or cable car from the small harbour.

Kamari

Kamari is located on Santorini's east coast. Here the beaches shelve gently into crystal clear waters. The long, blue flag, shingle and volcanic dark sand beach is perfect for families as there are numerous watersports, a dive centre and an open air cinema. Lively bars, stylish restaurants and traditional tavernas along the seafront complete the picture of this cosmopolitan beach resort. The trail which winds up from Kamari to the ruins of ancient Thira, continues south to the seaside villages of Perissa and Perivolos where a strip of hotels and tavernas line a beachfront which is the longest on the island. Towering over the northern part of the beach is the mountain of Mesa Vouno. Akrotiri is best known for the remains of an ancient Minoan city, preserved in volcanic ash, its pebble coves, and Red Beach.

Caldera

Sightseeing on Santorini

Caldera Cruise

Boats leave several times a day from Santorini's capital, Fira, across the caldera to Thirassia and the burnt islands of Palei Kameni, and Nea Kameni. Enjoy a therapeutic mud bath and a swim in the hot springs on Palei Kameni, and scale the slopes of Nea Kameni where steam still rises from the crater. On Thirassia, visitors can enjoy a relaxing lunch and outstanding views back to Santorini.

Vineyards

Thanks to its rich volcanic soil, Santorini produces some of the most popular Greek wines and there are several wineries offering guided tours and tastings coupled with excellent restaurants.

Ancient Thera

Located 370 metres above sea level at the summit of Mesa Vouno, on the rocky headland separating Kamari and Perissa, are the remains of ancient Thera, a 9th century settlement.

Akrotiri

In the village of Akrotiri, preserved in volcanic ash, just like Pompeii, there are extensive remains of a Minoan city destroyed by the volcanic eruptions of 1600 BC. It was originally discovered in 1860 whilst quarrying for rock, to be used in the construction of the Suez Canal, was ongoing. Excavations started in earnest one hundred years later. Artefacts from the site including wall paintings, pottery and domestic items, are on display at the Museum of Prehistoric Santorini located in Fira.

Fira

The capital of Santorini, with its sophisticated boutiques, jewellers, trendy bars, excellent restaurants and lively nightlife, is perched on the eastern rim of the volcano, 260 metres above sea level. Welcome to Kos

Close to the Turkish coast, and one of the most popular of the Greek Islands, Kos is relatively flat with one mountain range, Dikeos, rising to 846 metres. Kos boasts picturesque traditional villages, ancient sites, popular resorts and is most famous for its excellent beaches and warm Aegean waters.

The island

There are the long golden sands of Kamari, the bustling beach at Kos Town lined by restaurants and bars, the tranquil dark sand volcanic beach at Agios Fokas, and the gently shelving, family friendly beach at Mastihari.

Kos Town

Cosmopolitan Kos Town combines ancient and modern worlds; historic sites, great shopping and exciting nightlife. Built around a bustling harbour, and dominated by the medieval Castle of the Knights, Kos Town features myriad restaurants, cafes and bars, and vibrant nightlife. Wide, tree-lined streets and sophisticated shopping comprise the new town. The old quarter counters with historical ruins, local markets and charming squares. The extensive beach, with its promenade of bars and tavernas, tends to get busy close to town in the height of summer. The beaches of Lambi, Marmara and Tingaki, along the coast, provide quieter alternatives.

Our resorts

Former capital of the island, when it was known as Astypalea, and its westernmost town, Kefalos is a picturesque village about 40km from Kos Town. Built into a hillside it is dominated by the imposing Papavasilis windmill, and offers gorgeous views out over the south west of the island. Home to one of the island's finest beaches, Lambi is a 30 minute stroll from Kos Town. Its long sand and shingle beach extends north from Kos Town's harbour. The beach shelves gently into the sea making it ideal for families. There are waterports, snorkelling around the headland, and an array of beachfront tavernas, restaurants, cafes and bars. Boat trips to the neighbouring islands of Pserimos, Nisyros and Kalymnos are available, whilst inland there are scenic walks to traditional villages for those in search of authentic Greek life.

Just to the south of Kos Town, Psalidi is an unspoilt, beachfront enclave of some of the island's finest hotels. Here life revolves around relaxation and restful days on the resort's pebble beach; gently shelving, it's ideal for families and children of all ages. Surfing and scuba diving are particularly popular. Its beachfront promenade is lined with fish tavernas and restaurants. Psalidi is a laid-back resort with most of the entertainment focused around the hotels; for a more vibrant nightlife head to Kos Town. Tingaki, on the north coast, is a byword for tranquility. This little place is tucked just behind a superb stretch of sand where there are bars, restaurants and shops. The nightlife is low-key, but if ever you want more action, Kos Town is only 11 km distant.

The Asklepion

Hippocrate's Plane Tree

Sightseeing on Kos

The Asklepion

The island's most important ancient site is the Asklepion, a religious sanctuary dedicated to the Greek god of healing. Located on a wooded hillside, 4km west of Kos Town, with great views towards Turkey, there are ruins of temples, baths and an altar. An unlikely, and unsubstantiated, myth suggests that Hippocrates worked and taught here.

Castle of Antimachia

Located on a small hill overlooking the village of Antimachia, are the imposing and well preserved external fortifications of a Venetian Castle. Built by the Order of St John it dates from the 14th century.

Castle of the Knights

Built in the 15th century by the Knights of St. John as defence against the Ottoman Empire, this imposing double fort stands at the harbour entrance and comprises four interior towers, battlements, gun ports and bastions, a drawbridge, and ramparts offering fabulous views over Kos Town and harbour.

Hippocrate's Plane Tree

This 500 year old plane tree, thought to be the largest in Europe, is located at the entrance to the Castle of the Knights. It is believed to be a descendent of the tree under which Hippocrates, Greek physician and father of modern medicine, tutored his students.

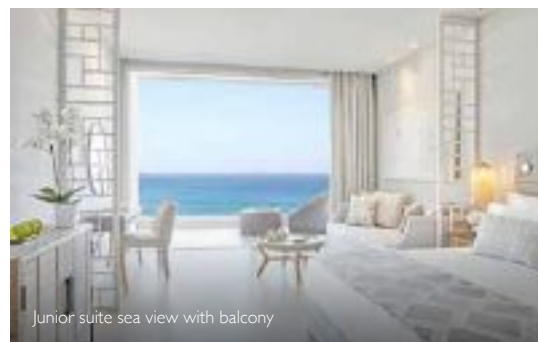

Casa Romana

Casa Romana is a 3rd century Pompeii style Roman villa beautifully restored and decorated with frescoes and mosaics: numerous statues originally from the villa are displayed at the Museum of Kos.

Boat trips

Daily boat excursions are available to Bodrum on the Turkish Coast, and closer to Kos, the islands of Pserimos with its delightful sandy beaches, Kalymnos, home of sponge divers, and Nisyros, with its dormant volcano.

Welcome to Rhodes

Ancient Greeks worshipped Rhodes, the largest island in the Dodecanese, as their Island of Sun. It has maintained its reputation as the sunniest destination in Greece, and with its delightful bays, flowers and forests, handsome towns and ancient sites, visitors are only too happy to continue the veneration.

The island

Greek mythology pronounces that when Zeus forgot to set aside any land for the Sun God, Helios, the latter asked for a sunny island that had recently emerged from the sea, and which suited his sunny disposition; that island was Rhodes.

Enjoying one of the healthiest and most refreshing climates in the Mediterranean with strong sunlight and beautiful warm sea, the island is also crammed with sites. The old town of Rhodes, the capital city, is widely acknowledged as one of the finest walled cities in Europe, and the landscape is bedecked with as many Byzantine churches as it is flowers.

Ancient archaeological settlements and a truly stunning Acropolis give way to fragrant pine forests, fabulous beaches and delightful sandy coves.

Rhodes Town

Rhodes Town is the largest inhabited medieval town in Europe. Its fortress walls rise out of lush sub-tropical gardens to protect a maze of arcaded loggia, Italianate squares and tiny cobbled backstreets. This splendid medieval city and its fortifications have attained UNESCO World Heritage status.

The Palace of the Grand Masters is a majestic 14th century jewel lying in the architectural crown of the Knights' Quarter. Rhodes' Turkish heritage is visible in the faded red stone and slender minaret of the 16th century Mosque of Suleiman; on a clear day its visible from the Turkish coastline 18km to the north. Beyond the ancient walls, the trinkets of the new town exercise considerable charm: there are designer shops, restaurants, a casino housed in a summer palace, live-music, bars, laser shows and simple backstreet ouzeries where backgammon is the plat du jour.

Our resorts

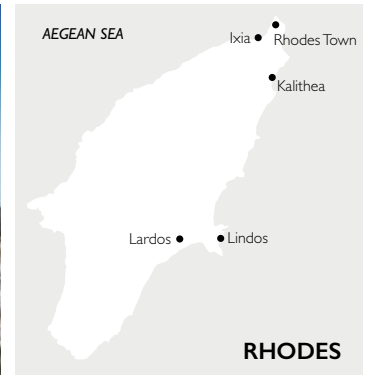

Pretty and purpose-built Ixia features a waterfront of luxury hotels, and a long shingle beach backed by a promenade which runs all the way to Rhodes Town. Ixia offers great watersports facilities, traditional Greek restaurants and quiet bars. The thermal springs and spa have been drawing visitors to Kalithea since the 1920's. It remains a relaxing resort, both by day and night, where tiny inlets, rocky coves, sand and shingle beaches and clear emerald waters add to the attraction.

Lindos is a beautiful town where whitewashed sugarcube houses with charming pebble-paved courtyards cling to the hillside. Set high on a promontory overlooking the sea, the stunning Temple of Lindian Athena can be reached on foot via narrow, cobbled alleyways framed with glorious bougainvillea. Simply unique, the whole town is classified as an archaeological treasure.

Lindos

Lindos is known for its beauty, and clifftop acropolis which features monumental 4th century gates. The Temple of Lindian Athena sits above an earlier temple. On the site's lower level is the 14th century Castle of the Knights of St. John. Among the town's whitewashed buildings, the Virgin Mary of Lindos Church has 15th century frescoes.

Petaloudes: Butterfly Valley

Attracted by the vanilla-scented resin of the storax trees, butterflies and tiger moths flock to this valley of streams and waterfalls. It is one of only two breeding grounds in the world for rare Quadrina butterfly and an area of great natural beauty.

Monolithos

Fabulous sunset views over the neighbouring islands of Alimnia and Chalki can be enjoyed from the top of this rocky outcrop which rises sheer from the sea to a height of over 210 metres. At the very top there's a castle which is home to a 15th century chapel decorated with charming frescoes.

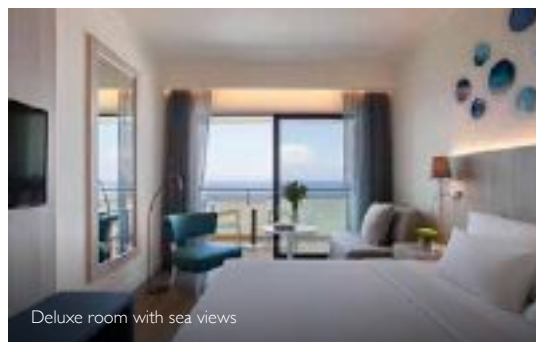

Mount Filerimos

The remains of the great 3rd century BC Temple of Athena Polias and Zeus Polieus, and the Monastery of Our Lady of Filerimos, converted from a 5th century basilica church, are the main attractions atop Mount Filerimos. Reached by Cypress-lined flights of steps, this beautiful acropolis offers stunning views.

Rhodes Town

Rhodes is perhaps best known for the famous Colossus of Rhodes, the tallest statue of ancient times, which is one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. Before it was destroyed, the statue stood over 30 metres high. The deer statues, located in Mandraki harbour where the Colossus once stood, are a beautiful sight in themselves, and in the ancient city, which was founded in 408 BC, you can see the ruins of the temples of Zeus, Athena and Apollo.

Welcome to Crete

Crete is the largest of the Greek islands and is widely regarded as a country within a country, not least by the Cretans who are welcoming, hospitable and fiercely proud of their island's history. Crete offers golden sandy beaches, azure Aegean waters, impressive mountain scenery, and the longest summer in Europe.

The island

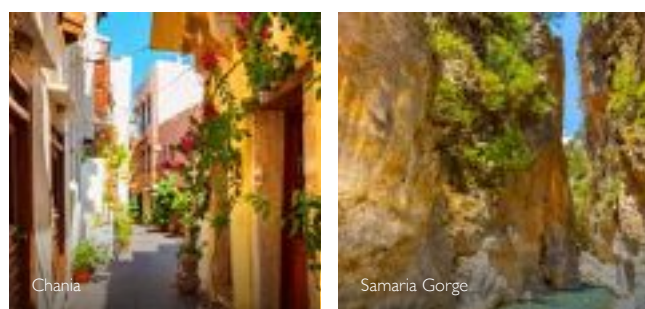

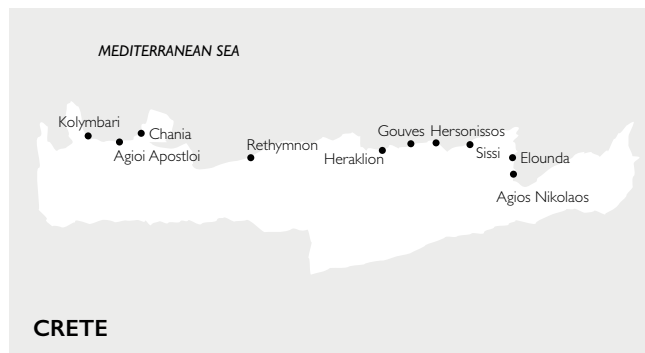

Crete occupies the most southerly point in Europe. It offers everything for a perfect Mediterranean holiday: golden beaches, sparkling waters, stunning scenery, and a richly diverse culture shaped by centuries of history including the Minoans, the first civilisation in Europe, followed by Greeks, Romans, Byzantines, Venetians and Turks. Heraklion Archaeological Museum is the world's greatest showcase of Minoan artefacts, and Knossos is home to the most impressive of several Minoan palace complexes. Four lofty mountain ranges, snow-clad in winter, dominate the foothills and broad coastal plains, and the Samarian Gorge is the most dazzling of more than a dozen imposing canyons. Secluded villages nestle amongst vineyards, olive and citrus groves and green, fertile meadows. To the south, small fishing communities seek shelter beneath precipitous windswept cliffs, and the north boasts beaches, coves and a series of great bays decorated with ribbons of fine golden sand.

Our resorts

Agios Nikolaos enjoys an enviable setting within sparkling Mirabello Bay. Behind the town's quaint fishing harbour are the aquamarine waters of Lake Voulismeni, whose depths are allegedly bottomless. Surrounded by steep cliffs and greenery, the lake is the focal point of the town. A number of tavernas have sprung up around the lakeshore. Eight kilometres north of Agios Nikolaos lies Elounda. Home to some of Greece's very best hotels, it boasts a large fishing harbour bordered by shops and tavernas. The bay of sand and shingle beaches is well protected by the Spinalonga Peninsula and is popular for watersports. In the picturesque fishing port of Sissi, life unfolds at a gentle pace. The port here is deep and the bay, long and narrow. The pier is lined by colourful fishing boats, and there are many sea-front tavernas in which to sample the freshest catch of the day.

Hersonissos, less than 30km east of Heraklion, boasts a long coarse-sand beach backed by myriad hotels, restaurants, tavernas, boutiques, and lively nightlife in the summer. Gouves features sugar-cube houses and tiny churches within a maze of cobbled streets built into the side of Mount Ederi. There's a village square and some lovely views over Kato, Gouves' seafront. Located between Chania and Heraklion, Rethymnon Town boasts a long, gently sloping, sandy beach. Crete's third largest town is vibrant. The pretty old quarter is a maze of narrow streets and alleyways. A huge fortress, minarets and domed mosque dissect the skyline. There's an enchanting harbour, a 17th century Loggia and Rimondi Fountain. Just ten minutes from Chania, Agioi Apostoli is a tiny village in a secluded location on a gorgeous beach. Kolymbari is a pretty fishing village caught between cliffs and sea.

Sightseeing on Crete

Spinalonga

The rocky island of Spinalonga dominates the entrance to Elounda Bay. Its impressive 16th century fortifications were built by the Venetians in defence against the Turks, and at the beginning of the 20th century it was home to lepers. A visit today is a poignant reminder of those less enlightened times.

Archaeological Museums

Secrets of the advanced and highly cultured Minoans, including the legend of the Minotaur, are revealed at the Archaeological Museum in Heraklion whilst in Chania you'll find a wide collection of Neolithic and Minoan artefacts as well as treasures of the late Roman period.

Knossos Minoan Palace

Home to the oldest civilisation on European soil and undiscovered until the beginning of the 20th century, the Palace of Knossos is a labyrinthine ruin dating back nearly 4000 years.

Balos Lagoon

Located in western Crete, Balos Lagoon is one of the most photographed spots on the island owing to its scenery and stunning beaches with shallow turquoise waters.

Samaria Gorge

The longest gorge in Europe, Samaria is an exhilarating visitor spectacle, if not for the faint-hearted, covering 18km of spectacular landscape and scenery.

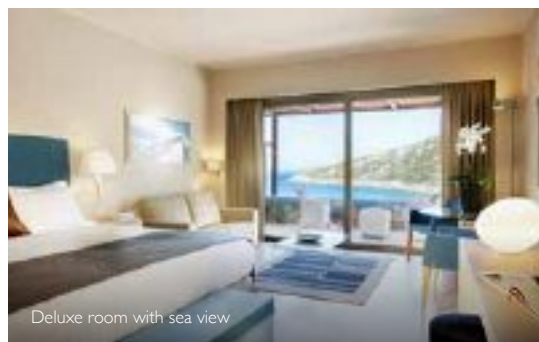

Mount Ida and Gortyna

Mount Ida is the highest mountain on the island and considered the childhood home of Zeus. Part of the E4 European walking path, the mountain is perfect for hiking in beautiful nature and discovering small mountain villages. Located south of Mount Ida, Gortyna is a Greco-Roman archaeological site and at its peak, during the Hellenistic era, was the most powerful and prosperous city of the island.

Arkadi Monastery

Built in 1587, the Arkadi Monastery is located near Rethymnon and regarded one of the finest Venetian churches on the island. In the 19th century it served as a major centre of resistance against the Ottomans.

Welcome to Cyprus

With a rich and diverse history, and a delightful Mediterranean island climate, Cyprus maintains its popular year-round holiday appeal. This island of compelling culture and landscapes boasts the natural beauty of its beaches, rolling hills and forest clad mountains and yet is steeped in myth and riddled with ancient riches.

The island

Cyprus is the third largest island in the Mediterranean and boasts stunning beaches and rocky coves, beautiful scenery and traditional villages, friendly people and a rich cultural heritage. It is also, according to legend, the birthplace of Aphrodite the goddess of love and beauty, making it an ideal destination in which to marry, renew vows or honeymoon. Greek is the official language, although English is widely spoken, and you will definitely feel at home should you hire a car, as the Cypriots drive on the left. Nicosia is the largest city, and capital, and worth visiting for its historic city walls and churches. South of Nicosia, the island's third largest city, historic Larnaca, boasts outstanding sandy beaches, an attractive waterfront as well as ancient churches and a medieval castle.

Our resorts

Limassol, a large cosmopolitan resort on the south coast, is the second city of the island. With excellent shopping and a wide range of tavernas, restaurants and bars along a twenty kilometre stretch, it has a busy and bustling centre. The old town is set around Limassol Castle, an imposing 13th century stone fortification housing a museum. On the east side of town, Dasoudi is a blue flag stretch of sand and pebble beach with plenty of watersports. Situated midway between Limassol and Paphos is the idyllic bay of Pissouri boasting a sand and shingle beach, crystal clear azure waters, a few tavernas and shops, and the traditional village of Pissouri nestling in the hills behind the bay.

Combining the beauty of the mountains and the sea, Paphos, with its charming harbour, superb historical sites and ancient monuments has become an increasingly popular holiday choice and was the European Capital of Culture in 2017. Just north of Paphos is the peaceful and beautiful resort area of Coral Bay. Its fabulous white, sandy and gently shelving beach features an array of watersports with a selection of bars and restaurants close by. Along the northwest coast, Latchi is a picturesque fishing village with harbour-front restaurants, and a sand and pebble beach with shallow waters. It's set on the edge of the Akamas National Park where there are more than 50 marked nature trails exploring this area of outstanding natural beauty.

Children under 16 must hold their own five-year passport. Contact the UK Passport Advice line 0300 222 0000 or www.gov.uk/browse/abroad/passports for information. Please note that your name and initials on your flight tickets/documentation must match those on your passport. For up to date visa information you should check the Entry Requirements page relevant to the country/ies you are visiting on the UK Foreign & Commonwealth Office (FCO) website at www.gov.uk/foreign-travel-advice ensuring that you allow sufficient time to apply for any necessary visas, or to purchase e-visas via foreign government websites. If you do not hold a British Citizen's passport you should check your requirements with the relevant Embassy or Consulate. We recommend that you seek advice from the Foreign and Commonwealth Office regarding your holiday destinations before booking your holiday and continue to check for updated information.

Staying safe on holiday Your safety is of paramount importance to us whilst you are on holiday; unfortunately, crime is prevalent the world over and we urge you to take precautions overseas as you would at home. We encourage you to visit www.counterterrorism.police.uk/staysafe/ which provides information and advice for holidaymakers.

Travel documentation Your flight tickets including e-ticket information and holiday itinerary will normally be dispatched approx. 30 days prior to departure although very late booking confirmations and e-ticket details may be forwarded by email only.

Vaccinations & health requirements In some countries it is wise, and sometime obligatory to have certain vaccinations. As guidance frequently changes it is strongly recommended that you check with your GP's surgery or www.travelhealthpro.org.uk for up to date information regarding health risks or vaccination requirements as soon as possible but at least 6 weeks in advance of travel. If you are travelling with medication, please contact the relevant Embassy or Consulate for up to date guidance on regulations concerning the carriage of drugs.

Mosquitoes In many countries mosquitoes can spread disease such as dengue, chikungunya, West Nile, malaria, yellow fever and Zika virus. It is your responsibility to seek medical advice prior to travel, particularly if you have an underlying medical condition, are pregnant or plan to become pregnant within 6 months of your return. It is important to seek medical attention if you have a fever or display any other symptoms. Should you become unwell on your return please ensure that you inform your doctor of any overseas trips you have taken in the last 12 months.

UK airport charges To cover the cost of development or improvement works, some UK airports charge an airport improvement fee which is payable within the relevant check-in area.

OUR BROCHURE & HOLIDAY DETAILS

Brochure accuracy This brochure was printed on 16 November 2020. Details are valid until publication of any revised edition, or you are notified otherwise by your travel agent or our reservations staff. From prices were calculated on 9 November 2020. All the facts in this brochure are re-checked for accuracy by our staff and, where possible, our hoteliers, although of course it is always feasible, especially in low season, that facilities may be unavailable as hotels, especially those which are open all year round, will require maintenance (e.g. pools), redecoration and refurbishment. Service within hotels may change from time to time e.g. dining changes from traditional waiter service to buffet style. Such events are regrettably beyond our control although we will alert you to significant changes at time of booking, or if you have already booked, we will contact you as soon as is reasonably possible if there is time before your departure.

Room types and upgrades Single rooms normally carry a supplement which is for the convenience of having a room to yourself and location/facilities may be inferior to that of a twin room. In family rooms and twin or double rooms that take additional beds, do note that the extra bed/s could be of a folding or convertible sofa type and beds for children may not be full adult-sized singles. When additional beds are put in a room, floor space will be reduced, and cupboard access may be limited. Junior suites normally have a sitting area, and suites have a sitting area or separate sitting room. Ocean or sea view rooms enjoy views of the ocean/sea although foliage, buildings etc may sometimes interrupt a full view. Ocean facing or sea facing rooms will face the ocean/sea but will normally be on lower floors where the view of the ocean/sea may be obscured through gardens/trees etc. Side ocean view or side sea view rooms tend to offer a restricted view of the ocean or sea. Please note that the main additional feature of any room category attracting a supplement may often be its view and that this will not necessarily include additional internal room facilities or amenities.

Room upgrade supplements are normally detailed on the hotel pages, but occasionally you may see the phrase on request which means that we will have to contact the hotel for up-to-date prices.

Hotels for couples Some hotels, particularly in long haul destinations cater for mixed sex couples only, and in some countries same sex couples are illegal. We therefore recommend that before confirming your holiday you thoroughly research your destination.

Hotel facilities some facilities may incur a local charge e.g. sun loungers, sports, games, use of fitness/leisure and spa facilities, children's clubs and children's amenities, safety deposit boxes and car parking. The operation of some facilities may be dependent upon seasonal demand and/or hotel occupancy rates.

Air-conditioning Most hotels offer in-room air-conditioning although this may be controlled centrally and might only be available at certain times of the year or subject to the prevailing weather.

Check in/out & duration of holiday On arrival at hotels, check in time is normally 4pm and check out 11am. Most hotels can provide luggage storage and changing room facilities if you arrive earlier or stay later, and you may be able to pay locally for a late check out from your room. The number of nights on your confirmation invoice refers to the number of nights reserved for you in your hotel. If you arrive very late at night or in the early hours of the morning, your accommodation is immediately available as it will have been reserved for the whole night and this will count as one of your holiday nights.

Meal arrangements Full board normally consists of breakfast, lunch and dinner; half board is breakfast and dinner. Full board or half board arrangements are generally served in the main dining room. Some hotels offer table d'hôte. A full a la carte menu is available for an extra cost in most of our hotels and customers should note that when half or full board is offered as a la carte dining, exclusions such as lobster, prawns etc may be available for a local supplement. Most hotels offer the option of booking any number of nights on half or full board so that you can pay in the UK and decide which nights you wish to eat at the hotel when you arrive: simply ask our travel consultants for details.

All inclusive Arrangements vary widely between hotels and where this concept is offered, it is wise to check specific details at booking stage as many hotels only include local spirits and wines and may limit your choice of restaurant. As with meal arrangements (above), if a full a la carte menu or restaurant is not included within the all inclusive concept, it may be available for an additional cost and exclusions such as lobster, prawns etc may be available for a local supplement.

Dress code Due to the sophisticated nature of many of our hotel restaurants, shorts and t-shirts are unacceptable for evening dining and slightly more formal attire is recommended. Formal dress is normally required for gala dinners. Specific dress is recommended for certain tours and safaris and this will be communicated at time of booking confirmation.

Children & infants To take advantage of children's prices, a child must normally be aged 2-11 years at the date of return and must share a room with two adults or full fare paying passengers, although some hotels offer special reductions for a second child sharing the room, or for older children, or for a child travelling with one adult, or where children share an interconnecting room. Children paying child prices can normally benefit from reduced half board supplements (when booking same board basis as adults) and will not normally be charged room supplements although if these are payable, relevant prices will be advised at time of booking. Normally children staying in their own room will be charged as full fare paying passengers including relevant room and half board supplements. Please note that infants and children's dates of birth (on the date of return from holiday) must be advised. Infants (under two years of age at date of return) pay a charge to cover any flight costs. Hotels will charge locally for food and cots. Please note that the regulations applied to the manufacture of cots in other countries are not as high as those in the UK and may not conform to British safety standards.

Child seats Although we can request child seats for private transfers in resort, they cannot always be guaranteed and in such cases, we suggest that you bring your own.

Babysitting arrangements are available at many properties although the service will vary, and the sitter may not remain in the room with the child. If you wish to use a babysitting service, you must arrange and pay for it locally with the sitter who is frequently a member of the hotel staff not qualified in child care.

Health & safety We endeavour to regularly check all our properties for compliance in respect of local regulations. However, guests must exercise caution particularly with regard to fire safety, swimming pools, balconies, lifts etc, where compliance may not be equal to British standards.

Resort development may be in progress and occasionally the work involved will result in building work being in evidence. We cannot forewarn of all developments, however, if the works taking place, either through noise or other inconvenience, is felt by us to affect your overall holiday enjoyment, we will supply all such information. Many of our resorts are in popular holiday destinations which invariably have busy road networks so you may encounter some traffic disturbance especially during peak season.

Representation Due to the specialist nature of our programme it is not always practical to visit our guests in their hotel especially during multi-centres, island hopping or fly drive holidays. All customers will be given emergency contact numbers and departure details will be confirmed during your stay. Our resort representative or local agent will normally make contact within 24 hours of your arrival to ensure that everything is in order, although should you encounter any difficulties during your stay, please contact your hotel manager in the first instance, and if further assistance is required, simply contact our resort manager or local agent who will endeavour to resolve the problem.

We also support Travelife; a global sustainability organisation which works closely with hotels helping them to improve their social, economic and environmental impacts. Additionally, we have formed an association with The Born Free Foundation, an international wildlife charity that campaigns to 'keep wildlife in the wild', see www.bornfree.org.uk for more details.

100% FINANCIAL PROTECTION

All the flight inclusive holidays within this brochure are financially protected by the ATOL scheme under ATOL number 5837. When you pay you will be supplied with an ATOL certificate (for further information about financial protection please see our booking conditions and www.atol.org.uk). For holidays and travel arrangements which do not include travel by air, your financial protection is administered by the Association of British Travel Agents (ABTA) under membership number W5429. In the unlikely event of our insolvency, the CAA and/or ABTA will ensure that you are not stranded abroad and will arrange to refund any money you have paid to us for an advance booking. ABTA members help holidaymakers get the most from their travel arrangements, and assist them in the unlikely event that things do not go according to plan. Under ABTA's Code of Conduct, we maintain a high standard of service to our customers. For further information about ABTA, the Code of Conduct, and the arbitration scheme, contact ABTA www.abta.com

We are proud to be members of AITO (Association of Independent Tour Operators) www.aito.com which represents many of the UK's leading holiday companies and travel agents. AITO encourages exceptionally high standards of quality and service and, as members, we agree to abide by AITO's Code of Conduct and adhere to its Quality Charter.

Coronavirus Covid-19 Given the introduction of new health and hygiene requirements related to the Coronavirus Covid-19 pandemic, certain amenities and facilities mentioned in this brochure may be limited or unavailable. Social distancing measures, mandatory health screening, temperature checks and quarantine may be in place during your journey, in your holiday destination and on your return to the UK. Where we are made aware of any changes which we believe might have a significant impact on your holiday, we will endeavour to let you know. However, changes may be implemented at any time and at short notice. We ask for your understanding if we have not been able to inform you of any changes before your departure on holiday. Please do not travel if you have symptoms of Coronavirus Covid-19.

Booking Conditions

OUR COMMITMENT TO YOU

1. Provision of your holiday We will arrange for the provision to you of the services which make up the inclusive holiday as confirmed to you. These services will be provided either directly by us or by independently contracted suppliers. When you, or your travel agent, ask for your holiday booking to be confirmed, we allocate your chosen holiday to you and give confirmation of the booking at that moment. It is then that a firm contract exists between you and Classic Collection Holidays Limited (Registered in England no. 1512421) on the basis of these booking conditions. This also acts as your acceptance of our booking conditions and your holiday is secured from that moment. If your holiday includes flight arrangements, you will be issued with an ATOL certificate immediately and, in any event, you will receive a holiday confirmation invoice verifying the details. All holidays and offers advertised in the brochure are subject to availability and are as confirmed to you by telephone or on your Holiday Confirmation Invoice.

2. Your holiday price

A. When you book All prices, supplements and offers shown in this brochure are based on costs at time of printing (16 November 2020) although we reserve the right to amend all prices, supplements and offers (up or down) when we receive notification of new costs. Hotels practice fluid pricing which means that costs may significantly increase during periods of high demand. Offers may not be available where we have exceeded our contractually pre-allocated rooms at certain hotels. Prices in this brochure include airline rates applicable at the time of printing and are subject to change. The government charges a levy to cover financial protection in the event of an airline failure and we automatically add this to your invoice total at the booking stage. Once you have confirmed your holiday booking, the price is protected subject to clause 2D of these booking conditions. Please note that not all hotel features detailed are complimentary, and some are subject to seasonal demand.

B. VAT and Exchange rates Our VAT Registration number is 503 944 749 and all prices quoted in this brochure include VAT where relevant (at 20% at time of going to press). The brochure prices of holidays were calculated using exchange rates quoted in the Financial Times Guide to World Currencies on 9 November 2020 in relation to the following currencies: Euro 1.1064 and US Dollar 1.3141. Please note a) these rates are not comparable with note or tourist rates which are quoted in national newspapers b) hotel costs, transfers, resort representation, excursions, local taxes and part of the flight cost are typically paid in the currency of your holiday destination country. Aviation fuel is paid in US Dollars. All of these costs are affected by changes in the cost of buying foreign currency, as per exchange rates listed above. We reserve the right to increase our prices in accordance with these booking conditions.

C. Surcharges (after booking) Once you have booked, the price of your holiday travel arrangements may be varied due to changes in transportation costs such as fuel, scheduled fares and any other airline cost changes which are part of the contract between airlines (and their agents) and the tour operator or organiser; and also in respect of government action such as changes in VAT or any other government imposed changes. In the case of any small variation, an amount equivalent to 2% of the price of your travel arrangements, and any amendment charges, will be absorbed or retained. For larger variations, this 2% will still be absorbed for increases but not retained from refunds. In either case there will be an administration charge of £1 per person together with an amount to cover agent's commission. In the unlikely event that this means that you have to pay an increase of more than 8% of the price of your holiday travel arrangements, you may cancel your booking and receive a full refund of all monies paid, except for any amendment charges. Should you decide to cancel for this reason, you must exercise your right to do so within 14 days from the issue date printed on your final invoice.

D. Tourist or environmental tax Some regions and cities impose a tourist or environmental tax. Amounts often vary between region and hotel star rating and often are payable by customers locally on departure from their accommodation. Taxes may be introduced or changed without prior notice and our travel consultants are happy to advise current rates where applicable.

3. If your booking is changed It is unlikely that your booking will have to be changed, but we do plan the arrangements many months in advance, therefore we reserve the right to do so at any time. Most of these changes are very minor, but where they are major, we will inform you or your travel agent as soon as reasonably possible if there is time before your departure. A major change is one that is made to a major part of your holiday arrangements before departure, such as a change of your departure airport (except between London airports), resort area or time of departure or return by more than twelve hours or offering accommodation with a lower category rating. If we must make a major change you have the choice of the following: A accepting the changed arrangements as notified to you, B purchasing another available holiday from us, or C cancelling your holiday and receiving a full refund of all monies paid. Additionally, if we make a major change after you have paid the full balance of your holiday and you accept A, B or C you will be entitled to compensation on the scale shown below.

Period before scheduled departure within which a major change is notified to you or your travel agent:	Compensation per adult
More than 56 days	Nil
43-56 days	£20
29-42 days	£30
15-28 days	£40
0-14 days	£50

Important note Compensation payments do not apply to changes caused by reason of war or threat of war, riot, civil strife, terrorist activity, industrial disputes, natural and nuclear disasters, fire, or other circumstances that may amount to force majeure.

4. If your holiday is cancelled We reserve the right in any circumstance to cancel your holiday and, in this event, we will return to you all money you have paid us or will offer you an alternative holiday of comparable standard to purchase. In no case, except for those beyond our control, will your holiday be cancelled after the balance is paid and, in such cases, compensation will be paid per clause 3.

5. What happens to complaints As members of ABTA (membership number W5429) we are obliged to maintain a high standard of service to you which is set out in a Code of Conduct. If we can't resolve your complaint (see clause 5 in Your Commitment to Classic Collection Holidays below) you may use ABTA's arbitration scheme which is approved by the Chartered Trading Standards Institute. Further information on the Code and ABTA's assistance in resolving disputes can be found online at www.abta.com

6. Our responsibility for your holiday

We accept responsibility for ensuring that all component parts of the inclusive holiday, limited to items included on confirmation invoice, and subject to the paragraph entitled Air Passenger Rights below, are supplied to you as described in this brochure and to a reasonable standard. If any such part is not provided to your satisfaction due to the fault of our employees, agents, or suppliers, we will pay you appropriate compensation if this has affected the enjoyment of your holiday (see Important note in paragraph 3 above). Our liability in this respect is limited to a maximum of three times the value of the holiday. We must ask you however, to be patient and understanding in the event of unforeseen alterations to your holiday made by our suppliers over whom we have no direct control.

Air Passenger Rights Under EU law you have rights in some circumstances to refunds and/or compensation from your airline in cases of denied boarding, cancellation or delay to flights. Full details of these rights will be publicised at EU airports and will also be available from airlines. However, reimbursement in such cases is the responsibility of the airline and will not automatically entitle you to a refund of your holiday cost from us. Your right to a refund and/or compensation from us is set out in paragraph 3. If your airline does not comply with these rules you can make a complaint via the Civil Aviation Authority www.CAA.co.uk

7. Excursions (whilst participating in arrangements made by us) Excursions, tours or experiences that you may choose to book or pay for locally whilst you are on holiday are not part of the holiday provided by us and not included within the package. For any excursion or other tour that you book, your contract is with the operator of the excursion or tour and not with us and we are not responsible for the provision of the excursion or tour or for anything that happens during its provision.

8. Personal Injury (whilst participating in arrangements made by us) We have taken all reasonable and proper steps to ensure that proper arrangements have been made for all the holidays which are advertised in this brochure and that the suppliers of the various services which will be provided to you as part of the inclusive holiday are efficient, safe and reputable businesses, and that they comply with the local and national laws and regulations of the country in which they provide those services. We have no direct control over the provision of services to customers by suppliers. However, subject to the Notes below, we will pay to our customers the equivalent of such damages as they would be entitled to receive under English law in an English Court for any personal injury to the customer, including illness or death, caused by the negligence, as understood in English Law, of the servants or agents of ourselves or of any of our suppliers contracted or sub-contracted by us to provide any part of the arrangements for your holiday as described in this brochure. With regard to any relevant international convention for example, the Montreal Convention in respect of travel by air, the Athens Convention in respect of travel by sea, the Berne Convention in respect of travel by rail, and the Paris Convention in respect of the provision of accommodation, which limit the amount of compensation that you can claim for death, injury, delay to passengers and loss, damage and delay to luggage, we are to be regarded as having all benefit of any limitation of compensation contained in these or any conventions. Copies of these can be made available on request.

9. Personal Injury (unconnected with travel arrangements made by us) If you, or any member of your party, suffer death, illness or injury whilst overseas arising out of an activity which does not form part of your holiday arrangements or an excursion arranged through us, we shall at our discretion, offer advice, guidance and assistance. Where legal action is contemplated and you want our assistance, you must obtain our written consent prior to commencement of proceedings. Our consent will be given subject to you undertaking to assign any costs or benefits received, under any relevant insurance policy to ourselves. We limit the cost of our assistance to you or any member of your party to £5,000. Under your travel insurance cover, you must make an insurance claim under the legal expenses section in respect of any legal fees incurred abroad for that purpose.

Notes in respect of paragraphs 8 & 9 We would request that you (a) notify us of any claim for personal injury within 2 months of your return from holiday; (b) assign to Classic Collection Holidays any rights against a supplier or any other person or party you may have relating to the claim; and (c) agree to co-operate fully with us should our insurers wish to enforce those rights. This assignment is necessary to enable us to try to recover from suppliers any compensation paid to customers and associated costs as a result of personal injury to customers caused by the negligence of those suppliers. It is not our wish to profit from such assignment, and in the unlikely event of our recovering more than such compensation and costs, any excess will be paid to the injured customers.

YOUR COMMITMENT TO CLASSIC COLLECTION HOLIDAYS

1. Your holiday contract As soon as your holiday booking is confirmed, a firm contract exists between you and Classic Collection Holidays on the basis of these booking conditions which are governed by English law and the jurisdiction of the English Courts. You may however choose the law and jurisdiction of Scotland or Northern Ireland if you wish to do so. Any disputes arising will be heard in the English Courts unless you prefer the courts of Scotland or Northern Ireland.

2. Payment for the holiday You pay a deposit of £150 per person short haul or £200 per person long haul (or an agreed sum to cover non-refundable flight seats and/or hotel or other costs) when you book. This is your commitment until 8 weeks before departure when your final balance is due, unless otherwise specified at time of booking. You must pay the balance at least 8 weeks before departure. For bookings within 8 weeks of departure, full payment is required at time of booking. If payment is not received as above, we reserve the right to treat your booking as cancelled and your deposit/s would be forfeited. If you pay a travel agent for your holiday, they will hold that money as our agent from the time they receive it until they pay it to us. Deposits and balances paid to us can be made by bank transfer, cheque or card.

3. If you change your booking If you want to change any details of your booking (e.g. transfer to a different holiday, substitution of a passenger, departure date or airport), we will do our best to help as soon as we receive your request in writing. We charge an amendment fee of £25 per person for each detail of the booking to be changed and, in addition to the amendment fee, we will charge for any additional costs we incur in making the amendment/s. You should give us reasonable notice of changes and please note that it is highly likely that amendment costs will increase the closer the change is made to your departure date. If amendments to a booking are made, and the booking is subsequently cancelled, we reserve the right to charge the original cancellation charges that would have been payable prior to the amendment.

IMPORTANT

Some arrangements (e.g. flights purchased from certain airlines and certain hotel bookings or other costs) may not be refundable or transferable after a reservation has been made and any alteration request may incur a cancellation charge of up to 100% of that part of the holiday arrangements. Where the price varies depending on the number of persons travelling and the numbers are amended, the price will be recharged based on the new party size. Any increase in price per person payable as a result of a part cancellation is not a cancellation charge and will not normally be covered by your chosen insurance. A separate cancellation charge will be levied in respect of bookings cancelled in accordance with paragraph 4 below. A new confirmation invoice will be issued as appropriate on which the cancellation charges will be shown.

4. If you cancel your booking You or any member of your party may cancel your booking, or part of it, once it has been confirmed, but the instructions will only be valid if in writing and signed by the person who confirmed the booking. Your written instructions should go either to the travel agent you booked with, asking them to notify us immediately, or if you booked direct, to us. Cancellation fees are on the scale shown, although please note that some holiday components have more restrictive cancellation terms and if this is the case, these will be communicated at time of confirmation. The amount payable depends on when we receive your written instructions.

Period before scheduled departure within which written holiday instructions are received by us	Amount of cancellation (% of total price)
More than 56 days	Deposit/initial payment
43-56 days	30% or deposit if greater
29-42 days	50% or deposit if greater
15-28 days	70% or deposit if greater
8-14 days	90% or deposit if greater
7 days or fewer	100%

5. If you have a complaint If you have a complaint about your holiday please refer the matter to the supplier immediately (airline, hotel, car hire company etc) and our local or telephone agent/representative in resort. Matters can most easily be resolved for you on the spot when the supplier can see and understand the exact nature of any problems. If your problem remains unresolved you must contact us using the contact details on your travel documentation and we will do everything reasonably possible to resolve your complaint whilst you're away. It is unreasonable to take no action whilst on holiday, then complain afterwards. In the unlikely event that matters cannot be resolved to your satisfaction our agent/representative will ask you to record details on a holiday report form of which you will be given a copy, and you must then follow up your report by contacting our Customer Relations team within 28 days of return.

6. Holiday illness If you, or any member of your party, become unwell whilst on holiday you must consult a local doctor in order to receive appropriate treatment and to obtain a full medical report. You must also report your illness as soon as reasonably practicable to our local or telephone agent/representative, the contact details of whom can be found on your travel documents.

Notes in respect of paragraphs 5 & 6 Failure to follow the procedures set out in paragraphs 5 and 6 above may reduce or extinguish any rights you have to claim compensation from us or any of our suppliers either in accordance with these booking conditions or otherwise.

7. Holiday participation We reserve the right to decline to accept or retain any person as a customer if their conduct is disruptive and affects the enjoyment of other holidaymakers, and we shall be under no liability for any extra costs incurred by such a person as a result of our doing so. Aircraft captains are legally entitled to deny boarding to any passenger presenting themselves at the aircraft who, at the captain's absolute discretion, are unacceptably under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Any passenger who is denied boarding on the outbound flight for that reason, shall be deemed to have given notice of cancellation of his/her booking at that moment, and cancellation charges will apply in accordance with paragraph 4.

8. Your accommodation is only provided for the use of passengers shown on the confirmation invoice as confirmed by us; subletting, sharing or assignment is prohibited.

9. Your travel ticket conditions When you travel with an air or sea or rail carrier, their conditions of carriage apply, some of which limit liability. These conditions are often the subject of international agreements between countries, and copies of the conditions which apply are available for inspection at the travel agent where you book your holiday.

10. Travel Insurance We strongly recommend that you and all members of your booking are adequately insured on holiday and that the insurance is suitable for your needs and the type of activities you will be undertaking as part of your holiday. You are responsible for indemnifying us in full in the event that we incur any losses or expenses arising out of your failure to take out adequate insurance cover.

11. Data Protection & GDPR Classic Collection Holidays is registered under the Data Protection Act 1988 and deals with all personal data in accordance therewith. It is, of course, necessary for us to pass personal data to airlines, hotels, transportation companies, insurers and other agents in order that we can arrange your holiday. By confirming a booking with us, you have consented to allow the passing on of such data as we determine necessary for that purpose. Under the Data Protection Act, you have the right to inspect relevant personal information held by us. On 25 May 2018, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into force and relevant information including our role as data controller, is detailed in the privacy policy statement on our website.

12. If we become insolvent By confirming a booking with us, you agree that, in the event of our insolvency, where applicable ABTA may arrange for the services you have bought to continue, or for a suitable alternative to be provided at the same cost as your original booking. You also agree to accept that in circumstances where the travel service supplier provides the services you have bought, you agree to pay any outstanding sum under your contract with us to that alternative travel service provider. However, you also agree that in some cases the services will not be provided, in which case you will be entitled to make a claim under ABTA's Scheme of Protection (or your payment card issuer where applicable) for a refund of the monies you have paid.
